Moorhead to vote on Community Center/Regional Library

On November 8, 2022, Moorhead voters have the opportunity to approve a local option sales tax to fund a new Community Center and Regional Library. The current regional library is more than 60 years old and has a long list of repairs and needs to meet the standards of modern libraries. A community center is a major part of the plan. Moorhead residents have asked for space to grow and learn and a place to connect with one another for a variety of activities year-round.

Here are some important steps in this process and some key information about both the project and the local option sales tax.

KEY STEPS TO DATE

- 1. May 2021: The Minnesota Legislature gave the Moorhead City Council the authorization to place a sales tax question on the 2022 general election ballot to fund the project.
- 2. Fall 2021: Mayor Shelly Carlson assembled a citizen-led Task Force to start to envision the project.
- 3. January 2022: The Moorhead City Council unanimously agreed to place a 0.5 percent local option sales tax question on the November 2022 ballot.
- 4. April 2022: The City of Moorhead – in conjunction with the Moorhead Public Library and the Mayor's Task Force – held public listening sessions to gather input from the community to suggest features and functions of the new Community Center and Regional Library.

WHAT WILL THIS BE?

In its work, the Task Force appointed by Mayor Carlson has defined the project as:

- A regional library
- A community center where people can gather and connect
- A place where new ideas and dreams can take shape
- Ideally located in or near downtown

SALES TAX IMPACT ANALYSIS

To help show the effect of the sales tax, the City of Moorhead worked with the University of Minnesota Extension Center for Community Vitality on a Local Sales Tax Impact Analysis (using 2019 data). This independent external analysis estimates contributions from Moorhead residents and visitors to a local option sales tax. Findings include:

- Approximately 30 percent of sales tax paid in the City of Moorhead comes from out-of-town visitors; Moorhead residents would pay for about 70 percent of a new Community Center and Regional Library.
 - » The current sales tax in Moorhead is 7.375%, which includes a state sales tax rate of 6.875% and a 0.5% Clay County sales tax.
 - » By comparison, Fargo and West Fargo currently have 7.5% sales tax rates (which includes 5.0% state, 0.5% Cass County, and 2.0% city).
 - » The average Moorhead resident would pay just over $2 a month (or $25 a year) in sales tax to fund the project. A $100 taxable purchase in Moorhead would cost 50 cents more than it does now.
- Prior to the pandemic, Moorhead's retail tax base remained strong and steady for more than a decade and should be expected to remain steady and stable. Fargo also has a local option sales tax, so it is likely Moorhead will not see major shifts in retail patterns.

UPCOMING WORK

Project planning will be further developed over the coming months, including site selection, possible amenities and programming, size, and other details.

IF MOORHEAD VOTERS APPROVE (MAJORITY VOTE)

- Moorhead citizens will have their voices heard on Election Day. If they vote yes and authorize a sales tax, the design process starts in earnest. The City Council will:
 - » Begin pre-work on municipal bond issuance
 - » Open bids for design and construction services
 - » Accept bids for design and construction services
 - » Select design and construction services vendors
- Moorhead City sales tax begins in second quarter of 2023
- Contractor secures construction permits
- Construction begins (date TBD)

Moorhead Police Use Crime Analysis to Aid Intelligence-Led Policing

As the metro population grows, it is increasingly vital for the Moorhead Police Department to be efficient with its resources. In order to better understand and respond to crime trends in the community, the department added its first Crime Analyst, Cameron Jenson, in March 2021. "This position has been a goal of mine for the department since becoming chief as I believe intelligence-led policing is critical to utilizing our resources efficiently and effectively," police chief Shannon Monroe said.

As Crime Analyst, Jenson provides reports, analysis, and investigative support to the department's administration, detectives, and patrol officers. He combines information gathered from briefings with data collected by the department to identify crime patterns occurring in the community. Jenson also uses mapping software to visualize where specific crime types occur throughout the city.

Before hiring a full-time analyst, Moorhead Police had a data analyst intern position. Because of the beneficial impact of crime analysis on community policing, the department recently brought back this role by adding Lucas Clark Burnette, a senior at Minnesota State University Moorhead. The analyst internship program provides value to the department by increasing its analytical capabilities and also allows the intern to utilize their skills and education in an exciting field and possibly consider it as a career path.

While larger police agencies might have multiple analysts with specialized roles, Jenson's time is split among numerous departmental projects. "My role has evolved over the course of the last year as I have received training to develop skills and techniques within the field, as well as implement new software to leverage during investigations and regular analysis," Jenson said. He added that building from the ground up in a new position has been challenging but rewarding. "We're learning something new every day. Crime analysis will continue to benefit the community in ways we may not even have imagined yet."

Cameron Jenson is from Worthington, MN and earned his BA in Mathematics and Applied Physics from Concordia College.

Lucas Clark Burnette grew up in Mahanomen, MN and is currently a senior at MSUM majoring in Engineering-Physics with a minor in Mathematics. Following graduation, he plans to pursue a Master's Degree in Civil Engineering at the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities.

Transform Downtown Moorhead into the 'heart of the community' by incorporating a range of housing and retail options, cultural amenities, parks, and public services.

Integrate a mix of mutually supportive land uses and experiences in redevelopment areas by building upon and strengthening existing retail centers and utilizing experience-based marketing.

Connect neighborhoods to parks and trails and provide multimodal access to downtown, the Red River, and community amenities.

Embrace resilient environmental and equitable solutions, planning for infrastructure, building development, energy, and climate adaptation while building a greener community.

Build and nurture local businesses as key partners, in building and maintaining a prosperous community.

Comprehensive Plan Update

You did it, Moorhead! The update to the City of Moorhead Comprehensive Plan is complete and was approved by the City Council on March 28, 2022 after more than a year of public input.

Based on your comments, the Plan will help set the stage for prioritizing growth and development over the next 10 years. The plan looks at future issues, goals and visioning to prepare for changes in our community as it continues to grow.

The next step is to implement your ideas. We will start with the top priorities of the Plan, which are encompassed in the Five Big Ideas (at left). These ideas will be the basis for action over the next five years to help bring your vision for your community to life.

U.S. Drought Monitor - Minnesota

No current watering restrictions, but conservation remains important

In 2021, much of the Red River Valley area experienced severe drought conditions that led to Moorhead Public Service requiring mandatory watering restrictions. Over the past 4-6 months, the Red River Watershed has recovered significantly. The graphics show how statewide drought conditions have changed from Aug. 24, 2021, to March 29, 2022.

Mandatory watering restrictions for Moorhead and Dilworth were lifted on Nov. 12, 2021, when drought conditions began easing in the Red River Valley. That means that this spring and early summer will not begin with any mandatory watering restrictions in place, which is great news. There are steps that residents and businesses can take to continue to be good stewards of our water resources including:

- Limited watering of lawns. Healthy, established lawns need about one inch of water per week to stay green. Fifteen minutes of watering every other day provides plenty of water.
- Waiting to water lawns until early in the morning or later in the evening when less water will be lost to evaporation.
- Installing rain sensors on irrigation systems and timers help to prevent overwatering of lawns.
- Fixing leaks in irrigation systems, toilets, faucets, pipes, etc.
- Shutting off faucets when not in use when brushing teeth, doing dishes, etc.
- Installing low-flow appliances and bathroom fixtures to save water.

Make sure sump pumps are disconnected from sanitary sewer system

Moorhead residents are reminded it's time to disconnect sump pump hoses from the sanitary sewer system. Drainage should be directed to the street, backyard or side yard (please be courteous to your neighbors when choosing where to discharge). Sump pump discharges to the sanitary sewer during this time period creates a risk of overloading the sanitary sewer system, which can lead to basement back-ups for you and your neighbors.

Residents may request a seasonal waiver to allow sump discharge into the sanitary sewer from November 1 - March 31. Because the risk of significant rain events is lower during this time, the sanitary sewer system is capable of handling this extra water. That changes during the spring and summer months.

We appreciate your cooperation to ensure the capacity of our wastewater treatment. Thank you!

If you have questions about sump pump discharge, please contact the Wastewater Division at 218.299.5386.

Moorhead offers some great incentives for newly built homes

New homes built in Moorhead expand the property tax base and benefit our whole community. To add to the excitement of owning a new home, the City of Moorhead has some "Moorhead Perks" for investing in a newly constructed home.

Make Moorhead Home Property Tax Rebate

The Make Moorhead Home Property Tax Rebate is a property tax break for the first two full years after a new home is built as an incentive to grow the City. The rebate saves a new home buyer thousands of dollars. On a new $300,000 home, the total value of the rebate may be as much as $7,700. After the rebate period, the homeowners pay the same tax rates as other homeowners. You don't need to be a first-time home buyer. As long as you are building a new home or buying one that has not yet been occupied, you are eligible.

No application needed—when a building permit for a new home is issued, the property is automatically enrolled in the rebate program. The rebate of the eligible portion of the tax payments will be refunded in December of each year of eligibility. If you have any questions on the program timing, just contact the City Assessor's Office at 218.299.5310. This program is available through December 31, 2022 unless extended.

Welcome Home Pass

The Welcome Home Pass is another special gift to buyers of newly constructed homes that allows Moorhead's newest neighbors to experience all that Moorhead Parks and Recreation has to offer. The pass offers the homeowner and everyone living in the immediate household access to golf (season pass) and swimming (family pass), and recreation programming (12 months) for both kids and grownups. There are a number of new housing neighborhoods under development in Moorhead.

For additional details about the Make Moorhead Home property tax rebate and the Welcome Home Pass, please visit MakeMoorheadhome.com.

MATBUS Connect Offers New Mobile Payment Options

MATBUS is excited to launch its new fare payment system – MATBUS Connect! Connect's features will give riders greater flexibility and freedom in how funds are managed through a new mobile app, online payment portal, and connected smart card.

MATBUS Connect is account based, which means that riders load funds to an account, rather than purchasing monthly passes. Instead of paying one month upfront, you can pay as you go, never spending more money than you need to. This allows you to get the best value for your money, because payments will be capped once you hit daily or monthly spending limits. An adult will never pay more than $3 a day or $42 a month.

MATBUS is also making it more convenient to load money to accounts. You can add funds from anywhere with Internet access through the MATBUS Portal website or the MATBUS Connect App on a smartphone. Then you can pay on the bus with your linked smart card or by loading tickets on the app. Riders can also continue to pay with cash on the bus or at the downtown Customer Care Center.

MATBUS Connect is expected to launch in May 2022. For more details and a list of frequently asked questions, visit MATBUS.com/connect.
